Summary: The Working Group meeting began with a welcome from the co-chairs and a review of the agenda for the meeting. The group next discussed the process for how best to discuss and review the statement of review memo generated by the neighbors and what precedent to set moving forward for sending information to the Steering Committee.

Next Jonathan updated the group on the progress made on the Sound Barrier plans; this included tree preservation planning and a review of how the amplified sound limiter will function. After taking questions from neighbors, he walked the group through the progress on the Marabar art installation as well as the relocation of the AU community garden. The meeting closed out with Jonathan previewing future engagement on AU's next project, the Center for Athletic Performance.
